

Drawings show comparison of floor space required for standard uneven bar foot print and the 44% space savings with reduction rods.

